IV—The Sand Hill Board of Trade.

By FREDERICK J. HASKIN.

ABERDEEN, N. C., March 17.—

The Sand Hill Board of Trade is a great deal more than a commercial organization. It is the practical expression of an ideal community life in the country. The members tell you this: then they lead you out in the sand hills and show you their schools and roads and scuppernon

vineyards and peach orchards and cotton fields and tobacco patches.

They show you a very mixed farming community that flourishes amazingly in a shallow and sandy soil, largely by reason of the fact that all of its members pull one way.

They make you believe in their ideal.

Only One of Its Kind

The Sand Hill Board of Trade

can't be classified; it is the only one of its kind. It is an independent and self constituted democracy

which has no regard whatever for county lines. This is the way it came into being.

Among those who have moved into the Sand Hills within the last five years have been about forty men from New York, Boston and other big cities. Nearly all of them

brought money, youth and brains.

Most important of all, they brought a pretty definite ideal of what they wanted to do.

Mr. Ralph W. Page, once a New York lawyer, is the chief expounder

of the Sand Hill philosophy. Rural life, he points out, should be the best kind in the world. It may have much of the culture and variety of city life together with the freedom

and fresh air and health of the great outdoors. England, of course, is the classical example of this. But in England the wealthier people do not go to the country merely to have a good time. They live there and the best of them devote their time and energy to the development of their communities.

Live On the Job

That is what the Sand Hill men

organized to do, and they are doing

it. Furthermore, they take themselves and their jobs seriously. They do not merely come here to visit once a year; they live here. They wear soft shirts and khaki and scout around in cheap autos. A presuming reporter from Philadelphia once wrote them up as "gilded youths,"

and they still from when the name of this particular scribe is mentioned.

These men made the Board of Trade, but the natives made it go.

They are highland Scotchmen whose forefathers came here in colonial times. They move slowly but certainly—and they are the bone and sine of the Sand Hill country forty miles in diameter was taken as the territory of the board. It was divided into twenty-nine districts, each of which had a bit of a village as its center. Each district was given

three representatives in the council of the board, and each district had

HOLWAY PROMISES AN AEROPLANE

First Military Plane in the State Will Be Stationed at La Crosse by Next Fall

Carrying out plans hinted at recently, Company M of the Wisconsin

National Guard, will within two weeks be converted into a radio

(wireless) signal corps company. It will be the first branch of its kind in the Wisconsin militia, and will be one of the few national guard signal corps in the United States.

Within six months an aeroplane

branch will be added to it.

Adjutant General Orlando B. Hol-

way, commander of the state troops of Wisconsin, placed a proposition to transfer Company M to the radio services before the men of the company

when he inspected them last night.

A vote was taken on the proposal

and it was accepted unanimously.

Bringing the signal corps to La

Crosse will mean that this city will be in possession of four national guard companies. The corps will be called "Radio A" and a new company

M will be formed. La Crosse now has two companies of infantry and a hospital corps.

To Be Mounted

The signal corps will consist of seventy-nine men and officers and will be fully mounted. Equipment will include four pack radio outfits,

capable of sending wireless telegraph

messages from eight to ten miles,

and two wagon radio outfits, capable of transferring messages distances

of from ten to eighty miles. Complete plans for obtaining horses for peace training of the members of the company have not been made.

No definite time has been set for bringing the aeroplane branch of the company to La Crosse, but a definite promise to do so was given by General Holway.

Gun-Butts Ring Approved

General Holway's proposal last night came at the end of an address to the men, and was a distinct surprise. General Holway tentatively proposed bringing the radio branch to La Crosse several months ago. At that time there was some objection to the plan. When the vote was taken by grounding rifles last night,

not a weapon in the company but rang its approval on the floor.

Captain F. H. Fowler, commander of Company M, who will be made

chief of the radio corps, gave his heartily approval of the plan prior to his calling for a vote.

General Holway emphasized the importance of the branch and pointed out to the militiamen that it would raise the status of the militia forces of La Crosse.

"I have picked you men out for this honor," he said, "because I believe you are best fitted for it. I believe that you are more capable of the duties required in this important branch of the national guard

than any other company in the state.

I consider it an honor which is being bestowed upon you. The radio corps will play an important part in any war which may befall this country.

Promises Aeroplane

"By next September I hope to bring an aeroplane branch to the company. This will raise the number of the men, and will be one of the most extraordinary branches of any state militia. Just what equipment the branch will bring will be announced later."

General Holway led up to his proposal with a fifteen minute talk to the men on the need of co-operation.

He told them that the national guard

had been misunderstood in that it

CALLS FOR ARMY OF 178,000

Bill Provides Militia Be Raised to 250,000 Men;
Also Wants Reserve

BY BOND P. GEDDES

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Congress today plunged into national defense legislation. Dropping all other considerations, halting nearly all other business, both senate and house began actual work on army

reorganization. The house began debate of the army bill, while in the senate the army bill was formally launched when Senator Chamberlain reported his army increase bill from committee and announced he would call it up for consideration Monday.

Spurred by the American expedition into Mexico, leaders in both houses of congress took steps to give the army legislation right of way. Chairman Hay of the house

military committee, as spokesman for the administration opened the debate on the house bill for increasing the army to 140,000 men.

Representative Gardner, Massachusetts, will offer amendment making the army 250,000 or more if possible.

Revive Continental Plan

An effort to revive the continental army plan of former Secretary of War Garrison was forecasted today.

The Hay bill, providing a regular army of 144,000 men, has a new reservation plan to build up by special incentives, a reserve of men retiring from the regular army and also

from the national guard.

The second principle feature of the measure is federalization of the militia. It provides for a uniform standards of control of militia by the federal government, increased pay from the federal treasury for the state

troops and standard rules for training and equipment of the guardsmen. It incorporates the Hay "militia pay" system, doubling government

expenditures from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 annually.

Training of many citizen soldiers

at summer training camps under tutelage of United States army officers,

is an important feature.

The maximum number of militia

under the bill is 400,000 to be recruited with five years. They would have two years active and four years

reserve service, building up an enormous trained reserve corps in a few years. The present militia strength is about 125,000.

The senate bill provides increase of the regular army to 178,000 and the militia to 250,000. It is believed a compromise will be effected in conference to increase the regulars

above the 144,000 figure.

Chairman Hay gave a detailed explanation of the administration legislation.

would mean compulsory service. I

FRECKLES

March Brings Out Unsightly Spots. How to Remove Easily. The woman with tender skin dreads March because it is likely to cover her face with ugly freckles. No matter how stubborn a case of freckles you have, the double strength ointment should remove them. Get an ounce from your druggist and banish the freckles. Money back if it fails.

German Coffee Cake

Made Without Yeast By Mrs. Janet McKenzie-Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine. There is no warm bread quite as appropriate for Sunday morning breakfast as German Coffee Cake yet it is seldom made by housewives who do not bake their own bread. If K C double raise Baking Powder is used it will be just as good as if raised with yeast and it will have the further advantage of being fresh and warm. Save this recipe and try it next Sunday.

K C German Coffee Cake

Two and one-fourth cups sifted flour; 3 level teaspoonsful K C Baking Powder; 1 level teaspoonful salt; 2 tablespoonsful melted butter; 2 tablespoonsful sugar; 1 egg; milk.

The DOCTOR'S ADVICE

by Dr. Lewis Baker The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature. Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Ellwood Sts., Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Undersized" writes: "How may I safely increase my strength and weight?"

Answer: The best thing I could suggest to increase your strength and add to your weight several pounds of good, healthy flesh is the use of three-grain hypo-nucleic tablets. These tablets taken with your meals cause proper assimilation of the food, and in a short time you should increase in weight as many pounds as you wish.

"Traveler" says: "Since I had la-grippe this winter I am bothered with pains in my back and chills and fever. I am told that I have kidney trouble."

Answer: Your kidneys are possibly congested and inflamed. If you have headache, chills and fever and pains in the back, you need a good kidney medicine. Another symptom is scant, ill-smelling urine. Also a puffiness under the eyes and swollen ankles. I always prescribe balmwort tablets and they give perfect satisfaction.

"Mrs. L." writes: "My blood is in bad condition. I am nervous and constipated. I always feel tired, but when night comes I cannot sleep. Have chills and fever."

Answer: The best thing I could prescribe for your condition would be three-grain sulphur tablets (not sulphur). They relieve constipation, aid digestion, and purify the blood.

"Hair Dresser" asks: "What harmless tonic may I use to promote hair growth and relieve the scalp itching and dandruff?"

Answer: Secure a jar of plain yellow minoyl and apply to the scalp after washing the hair. Rub in well and rinse out thoroughly. You will find this a most successful dandruff remedy and scalp vitalizer.

"Too Stout" writes: "I travel and I'm so fat I seem in my own way. Would like to reduce safely, 20 to who at present is recuperating from a minor surgical operation at Mercy hospital.

Mrs. Harry Palmer of La Crosse, who spent part of last week with her mother, Mrs. P. E. Sadd, returned to the Gateway City Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sheriff of this city, who are making their home with Mrs. Wupeit, are the proud parents of a baby boy, their first born, who came to their home last Wednesday.

Mrs. Herman Roggensack, who has been helping her mother, Mrs. W. Gee, for the past month or so, departed Monday for her home at West Union.

Don't forget the basket social and debate on "Women's Suffrage," Wednesday evening, March 22nd, at the Three Corner school.

Mrs. Fossum of Rossville, is a guest of her friend, Mrs. Gus. Lipple, south of town, since Thursday of last week.

30 pounds."

Answer: Many people have reduced their weight successfully with the use of arbolone tablets. These may be bought at any well stocked drug store with full directions.

"Traveling Man" writes: "I'm not now the man I was a year ago. I've lost my ambition and vitality. I'm unfit for work and pleasure, and find the social and business demands I once enjoyed are now irksome to me. I seem to have lost my lease on life. I'm only 35; surely I'm not getting old. I feel bored and mortified at times, and worry and fret without cause."

Answer: Your symptoms indicate wasted nerve forces and a general run-down condition. You will find just the tonic, stimulant and builder you require in three-grain cadome tablets. Thousands in your condition have been benefited by them.

"Friend" writes: "I have recently had terrible rheumatism all the time. Please advise me what to take?"

Answer: Four your rheumatism I recommend the following treatment: 2 drams of iodide of potassium, 4 drams sodium salicylate, 1/2 oz. wine of colchicum, 1 oz. comp. essence cardiol, 1 oz. comp. fluid balmwort and 5 ozs. syrup sarsaparilla comp. Mix and take a teaspoonful at meal time and again before going to bed. You should get good results from this prescription and permanent relief.

"Jessie" asks: "What may I do for a bad cold? I think I have La Grippe, as I seem to ache all over. I cough and my throat is sore."

Answer: Your system is full of cold inflammation which causes the aching. You need a good laxative cough and cold medicine. This you will find in a syrup made from 2 1/2 oz. of the essence mentho-lasene mixed with one pint of simple sugar syrup or honey. It should open up the air passages, ease the inflamed membranes and relieve the cough.

City. She expects to return to Faith, S. D., and take up a claim. George Volkart and wife and Mrs. R. W. Carroll were La Crosse visitors last Saturday. The women remained for an over Sunday visit.

THE EARLY FLY SWATTER CATCHES TEN CENT PIECES

Sick People Sometimes Die From Lack of a Good Stimulant

Especially is this true in grip and pneumonia, for they are infectious diseases which attack weak and strong alike. Serious complications are liable to develop in the course of the disease, as grip settles in the weakest part of the system, sometimes the kidneys, the brain, the stomach or the heart, resulting often in heart failure, but the most dreaded of all, pneumonia, which is particularly fatal when arising from grip. As one able medical writer says:

"In all severe types of pneumonia there are two sources of danger—heart insufficiency, and high temperature. A large portion of deaths from pneumonia directly result from heart failure."

judiciously used is one of the most efficient means of preventing or overcoming it."

The reason it is a remarkable remedy in the treatment and relief of grip, coughs, colds, influenza, catarrh, pneumonia, and all diseases of the throat and lungs, is that Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey aids in keeping the digestive functions in healthy condition so that the body gets the necessary health and strength from food eaten—enabling it to throw off disease germs. For more than 56 years it has brought the blessings of health to overworked men, delicate women and the sickly, who find in Duffy's the strength-giving properties that are so necessary to them.

"Get Duffy's and Keep Well." Sold in SEALED BOTTLES ONLY. Beware of imitations.

NOTE Get Duffy's from your local druggist, grocer or dealer. $1.00 per bottle. If he cannot supply you, write us. Send for useful household booklet free.

The pressure is high from the lake region to the gulf coast and lower temperature is reported from the upper Mississippi valley and upper lake region. It is warmer in the lower Mississippi valley and southern Plains states and much warmer in North Dakota and the adjacent Canadian territories.

No precipitation of consequence has occurred during the past twenty-four hours and fair weather prevails this morning in all sections.

A low, central in the Canadian northwest, will cause unsettled and warmer weather in this section tonight and Saturday and light snow is probable.

IT'S A RADICAL CONSERVATIVE LIE

Just think of it, after all Bob had to say about Teddy, the La Follette and Roosevelt forces in Wisconsin have formed a union. We yet believe that the lion and the lamb will lie down together. It will, as in past cases, be hard on the lamb.—Kenosha News.

A cheap canard, typical of its authors, Roosevelt and La Follette are at variance as wide as the poles on the international situation. La Follette regards the Roosevelt administration as the greatest trust hatchery in history and as a period of double dealing in which the law was slanted by the president to permit betrayal of the people to the steel interests. Between them is the bitter personal quarrel over Roosevelt's betrayal of La Follette in the last Presidential campaign, culminating in the defection of McGovern during the convention.

In the vain hope to tar La Follette with Roosevelt's anti-German rables, stand-pat editors have hatched the iniquitous fable. It will be answered in language too plain and vigorous to be misunderstood.

The man or woman who is satisfied to accept "the seven ages of man" as the sum of his being, to whom "this spangle of existence" justifies creation, must experience an awakening before going to church matters much. All others will find interest in the church if they will give it a fair trial.

THE LATE S. Y. HYDE

"All right, Van, where shall I sign?" That is the way the late S. Y. Hyde smilingly received appeals to help this or that civic or benevolent enterprise, when approached with the subscription sheet. He never inquired too closely as to details or haggled about amounts. For him it was enough that the organized business men of La Crosse had passed upon a project and given it their support. "Where shall I sign?" was the beginning and the end of the conversation, and Mr. Van Auken, then always the collector of funds, recalls no instance in which the donation was not generous.

Upon one other occasion, Mr. Hyde interrupted the champion of a cause to ask, "Where shall I sign?" and the publishers of the TRIBUNE hark back to that welcome sound with sincere appreciation, for it was then that Mr. Hyde affixed his name for a substantial block of stock in the old Tribune Publishing company and became one of the original stockholders in the organization that founded this newspaper. Nor was that all, for his advice and assistance was freely given on many other occasions during the early struggles of the TRIBUNE.

"A strange woman has been injured and they want to know who is going to pay for the ambulance."

A drug clerk, out of breath, made this statement to Mr. Hyde in his office, interrupting a conversation between Mr. Hyde and the editor of the TRIBUNE.

"Have her taken to the hospital and see that she is made comfortable. Get a doctor. If she has no funds send me the bill," said Mr. Hyde, and picked up the thread of his interrupted discussion.

There seems no necessity to say more. The board of trade did itself honor in recognizing the services and manhood of S. Y. Hyde.

A CONSUMMATION DEVOUTLY TO BE WISHED

If the resignation of Grand Admiral von Tirpitz is correctly interpreted to mean that the kaiser and that faction of the German government who place the friendship of the United States above the hardly substantial advantages to be gained by the indiscriminate prosecution of sub-sea warfare have gained complete control of German naval policy, gratification in this country will be general. The elimination of obstacles to resumption of the old international cordiality, not less than disappearance of the actual war clouds, will be most welcome in a country in the veins of whose people the melting pot has infused so much Teutonic blood.

Nor will the United States alone profit by a development which should lead to a sound footing of mutual understanding. Some day the war must end, and in that hour it is conceivable that the belligerents may gladly accept the good offices of the United States in bringing agreement out of the chaos. Then Germany, as the kaiser's wisdom no doubt conceives, will be the gainer by the existence of friendly relations.

Still later, when peace is established, all Europe will be in need of money and materials with which to resume their industrial operations, and again the friendship and credit of the United States will be valuable to Germany.

NOW FACE THE OTHER WAY

At the risk of too hastily accepting the change in the German ministry as assurance that a complete meeting of minds on submersibles may be reached between the United States and Germany, Americans naturally hasten to embrace that theory. With it, if correct, we have complete satisfaction, but clarification of the situation in that quarter but gives us more time in which to dwell in resentment upon the treatment of American commerce by another power. If Great Britain continues her impudent and illegal interference with American business on the high seas there will come in the United States a bitter protest and soon we shall be in the mood to turn every wheel and operate every lathe in the entire country in the building of a navy with which to accept the issue that involves our rights as a free nation.

LA FOLLETTE'S CHANCE AS GOOD AS ANY

There is no more significant movement in national politics than that to place Senator Robert M. La Follette before the republican national convention with solid delegations from at least two states. That is as much strength as any candidate is sure of, and should progressives control, La Follette's chance will be at least as good as that of any other candidate. In any event, the strength it affords will give Wisconsin a large influence in making the platform.

Mexico is tow and "gringo" is fire, and the United States has no asbestos soldiers. Cunning rather than intelligent, brutal rather than brave, is the "Greaser." Carranza influence never was strong in the north. Let us hope Uncle Sam has not sent a boy to mill.

GERONA
Modern war developments have taken away Gerona's chief claim to fame. For many centuries she has been known as one of the impregnable fortresses of Europe. Her castled hill made a perfect stronghold against all the old devices that were standards of the past, but the last year has seen the theoretical value of many a fortress pass away in the boom of guns half a continent distant. Such a fortress is the castled hill of Montjuich that towers over Gerona.

Gerona at least has been lucky enough to watch her strength shattered only in theory. The old city lies in northern Spain, comfortably out of hostilities. She has seen enough fighting in the past, though, to satisfy the most pugnacious. Twenty-five times the castle has been besieged, and four times out of every five it resisted successfully. Once the French fired more than 50,000 rounds of artillery into the stubborn defenses; the farmers still plow up cannon-balls, still stumble over old mortars overgrown with grass and bushes.

A scarred old war veteran is Gerona, but the day of high-perched, frowning battlements is past. Remains yet a picturesque old city dreaming by the side of a placid river that leaves its banks with the even wash of a Venetian canal. The yellow and white houses face each other across the sunny streets, each one greeting its century-old neighbor day after eventless day, taking on the richer tints of age with each succeeding sunset. The little street runs along deserted and silent, here and there spreading and awakening into busy squares.

Churches, cathedrals and cloisters are scattered everywhere, for battle and prayer went hand in hand in that Spanish past to which Gerona belongs. Here are sacred buildings of every sort, from the cathedral whose nave is the widest in Christendom, to a little oratory older than history and so low that a tall man cannot stand upright. Here are buried scores on scores of the great men of other days, their names gone from memory even as the letters of those names have been blurred by time from the patient stone. Gerona is an object lesson in philosophy, a monument to the all-effacing power of the ages.

THE WINNER

By William Merril.

"I can prove it," cried Henry. "But what is proof to Tredeker? He thought Dampierre's was a sort of drug store!"
"Did he?" asked Carr, and laughed shortly. "I can believe it." He was silent again, eyeing Henry reflectively before he made up his mind to be frank. Finally he leaned back in his chair.
"D'you know Tredeker's history?" he asked.
Henry shook his head.
"Child of luck, they should have called him," went on Carr. "Ten years ago he was salesman for a leather goods house and a pretty good one as salesmen go. He had saved about five thousand dollars and he made about five thousand a year. But he was a gambler by nature, though he didn't play the wheel or the ponies like Jim Parker."

"Who's Parker?" asked Henry, thinking of Marcela.
"Parker's a garage man and all-round sport down the street a piece. You've probably seen his place, as it's the biggest one in town. His daughter works in the office; tall, fancy-looking blonde with a haughty crust that would choke a dog and make-up that would shock a chorus girl. Parker would bet a hatful on a pachisi game, so he's always either rich as dogs or stony broke. But that isn't the kind of gambler Frank Tredeker was. He was the speculating kind, and just in a fever to bet on some get-rich-quick scheme. The kind that buys oil stock in a field next to the Standard holdings."

"There was an old Swede blacksmith or other mechanic that had a little shop near Tredeker's office and this fellow had an invention. It was a contraption in the way of a low-tension magneto when nobody dreamed of using anything but the high tension. Every time the old fellow mentioned it to any one they reported him to the lunacy commission. They nearly laughed him into his grave."

"Somehow or other he managed to get hold of Tredeker's ear and told him his tale of woe. Tredeker took a chance with his five thousand and they started making the thing in a little two by four shack. What's the use of telling it. The Swede was Sorenson and now he rides in limousines and drinks champagne out of buckets. So could Tredeker if he wanted to."
"Frank bought the controlling interest in the Crescent on a bet. He wanted to win the Cosmopolitan with his own car and it had to be a native one. Tredeker doesn't know anything about making cars and doesn't want to. He leaves that to Walker and Verrens, with me to run the shops. But they can have all the money they want to design motors if they will only build one, eventually, that will carry off the race. So far they haven't done it. They've built a good road car for years but when it comes to the track, they always fall down. I say its weight and balance but they won't listen to me and go on building heavier engines all the time until they've got a stock car so over-engineered that it's almost dangerous to drive. So there you have it. Frank Tredeker poses as a great manufacturer and builds the Crescent just to turn out a car that will win the Cosmopolitan, but as a matter of fact he doesn't know enough about the business to talk intelligently of it."

"He's a sport and a good one as sports go. But the thing a sport swears by first and last is 'gameness,' and that, in his opinion, you haven't shown. Again, since his experience with Sorenson, he has a fanciful admiration for the 'practical man' and contempt for the 'technical.' Verrens is game and rule-of-thumb and he can have anything in the shop. Walker is one of the early, self-taught automobile engineers and once was a good one, but he never had the foundation to advance with the profession and is building motors today that aren't really any better than those he designed half a dozen years ago. He's looking for technical help right now and that's why he got you, but he had a notion that you'd be a raw kid that he could pump for ideas and fool into the notion that he himself originated them. He's no more use for you and thinks he's drawn a lemon. You'll stand no show of getting advanced by him, I think."

"But if Tredeker wants a motor," cried Henry, "why can't he try mine?"

Carr smiled pityingly. "There doesn't pass a week that some crank or other doesn't call with a world-changing motor to show Tredeker," he explained. "And Frank wouldn't know the fly-wheel of it from the crank case. He shows 'em to Walker and Walker turns 'em down. If any one says 'motor' to Tredeker, nowadays, the old man has a fit."
"He couldn't turn mine down," said Henry with supreme confidence. "I've got it! Got the genuine thing! Got the real valveless engine that'll show forty per cent more power per unit of displacement than any other known. Here! Look at this!"

Heedless of Carr's stare of pity and incredulity, he dragged his wooden box from between his feet and threw it open. There, nestling in cotton-waste and packed as though it were a jewel, was something that even Carr must admire. It was an

NEWS NOTES from MOVIELAND

• • 67 DAISY DEAN • •

One of the most notable and interesting men in the film world is Hobart Bosworth, the actor-director who has attained such great success with big feature films. His is a thrilling life story. He was born in Ohio and when a mere lad, ran away to sea, landing finally in San Francisco. He made many futile attempts at different occupations and then drifted into the theatrical profession. After many more trials and tribulations he won success playing with such celebrities as Augustin Daly, Henrietta Crossman, Julia Marlowe, Minnie Maddern Fiske and others.

Mr. Bosworth will shortly appear as the star in "The Yaqui," a picture-legend of old Mexico. The film is based on incidents in Dane Coolidge's novel, "The Land of the Broken Promise," and will be a timely exposition of the methods of warfare and vengeful intrigue in Mexico.

"Race Suicide" Stirs Comment
From a mysterious "nowhere" and an anonymous "somebody" there has come since the release and first showing of a motion picture production, "Race Suicide," a deluge of letters commenting upon the theme which Joseph Farnum has selected. In the majority of instances the letters have been commendatory, and justly so. The film, not only has passed the censors in all states where it has been shown, but it has stirred admiration from the standpoint of the moral thought, and also because of the beauty of the theme.

The story is set in the far-off time of the cave man, and deals with his mode of living, his loves, his hopes. It affords for the actors and actress rare opportunity for clever work, and they make the best of the opportunity.

Wouldn't Let the Censors Ruin Play
Pittsburgh players barred a scene from the "Battle Cry of Peace."

This was the scene in which a woman shoots her two daughters to save them from capture by an army invading New York.

The exhibitor said the scene was necessary to the play, and found a way to evade the order of the censors.

He employed three actresses, and when that point in the picture arrived, the lights were turned on, the curtain raised and the scene was acted out on the stage. Then the lights were turned off again and the screen pictured the rest of "The Battle Cry of Peace."

Fifty-six Indians were used in connection with the making of the William Fox production, "Gold and the Woman." One of the scenes in the picture shows the demolition of an Indian camp by dynamite.

engine in miniature, an internal combustion engine of the same general shape and form as others, but tiny and delicate beyond description. It must have been made by an artist and some of its parts be more microscopic than those of a watch. If Henry had actually built this thing himself, then, Carr, admitted, he was truly a mechanic of supreme ability.
But Henry had lifted it from its nest of waste and set it on the table. A disconnected part or two he screwed into place. A tiny receptacle was filled from a bottle of gasoline that he produced, the little crank whirled over and the dainty fly-wheel began to rotate like a wheel of light. But there was no vibration or noise. It simply spun silently and with inconceivable swiftness.
"Look at it! Isn't it a beauty?" It was, and Carr admitted it. He bent over it and looked it over with a critical eye. Parts were missing or enclosed so that he could not see them.
"Where are the valves?" he asked.
"Not a valve on it," said Henry impressively. "Neither poppet, sleeve nor rotary. Intake and exhaust have to be, but see if you can tell me how?"
"The valveless engine!" muttered Carr. "Man, there isn't any such thing! It's a dream! An impossibility like perpetual motion!"
"And there it is!" sang Henry, his face lit up with the fire of achievement.
"It can't be done!" muttered Carr, and bent to find the trick. Without a word Henry stopped the motor and handed him tools to use in a thorough examination.

CHAPTER V
He Falters in the Breach
Mr. Tredeker came home in the evening and it was apparent to his only and orphan daughter that he was in a bad humor. Alice was the apple of his eye, however, and it was not on her that he vented it. He rather looked to her for sympathy and was inclined to discuss with her the things that angered him, feeling certain that she would enter into his troubles as though they were her own.
She had just returned from Chicago.

Hello Bill!
Little Sidney had reached the mature age of 3 and was about to discard petticoats for the more manly raiment of knickerbockers. The mother had determined to make the occasion a memorable one. The breakfast table was laden with good things and the newly breeched infant led into the room.
"Ah!" exclaimed the proud mother. "Now you are a little man!"
Sydney was in ecstasies. Displaying his garments to their full advantage, he edged close to his mother and whispered:
"Can I call pa Bill, now?"

Left-Handed Flattery.
"Oh, if I were only beautiful," she sighed artfully.
"I wouldn't care if I were you," he said. "You are very intellectual and you have a sweet disposition. Besides, you are nice to your mother; and all that is much better than being beautiful."
And he never came to see her again—Michigan Gargoyle.

'T WAS BAD SEASON IN LUMBER CAMPS

WASHBURN, Wis., March 17.—As the season for logging operation is drawing to a close lumber companies in this section are rushing the work as much as possible on account of the good market for their product.

ered work. The cut will probably be considerably smaller than was planned at the start of the season.

Logging camps are being discontinued now. Two camps of the Wachsmuth Lumber company of Bayfield were discontinued during the last few days, one on account of heavy snow and the other because the timber all had been cut. It is probable that this concern will have about 16,000,000 feet of logs for summer and fall cutting at the Bayfield mill.

MODERN CINDERELLA THEME OF PHOTOPLAY

How a girl from the slums is transformed into a member of the fashionable smart set and is ardently courted by a wealthy young bachelor, is the theme of the gripping society drama, "The Golden Chance," which will be seen at the Bijou tonight and Saturday under the direction of the Jesse L. Lasky company, with Cleo Ridgely and Wallace Reid in the stellar roles.

This thrilling play of a modern Cinderella is said to be one of the most lavish and unusual productions ever made by the Lasky company. From the depths of poverty, the girl is introduced among the leaders of society, only to be cast back again by her drunken, thiefing husband. How she is saved by a wealthy young bachelor, who has fallen in love with her, must necessarily be seen to be appreciated.

The Importance of Healthy Kidneys

In the removal of waste material from the body, the kidneys are called upon to perform a very important duty. The failure of these marvelous and delicately constructed organs to properly do their work means retention in the system of poisonous matter. This poisons the system, and if permitted to remain results in severe backache, headache, torpid liver, constipation, and eventually Bright's disease.

About 40 years ago Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy, a combination of herbs and other healthful ingredients was discovered; its value in strengthening the kidneys and liver was at once appreciated. And today it stands as one of the standard remedies in the treatment of diseases of the kidneys and liver. Many persons suffer from diseases of the kidneys unknowingly. The use of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Remedy will invariably improve your health, and make you feel that life is really worth the living.

It is sold by all druggists in 50c and $1.00 sizes. A sample free if you write. Warner's Safe Remedies Co., Dept. 422, Rochester, N. Y.

BOARD OF TRADE HONORS MEMORY OF S. Y. HYDE

Resolutions Adopted by the Civic Body in Honor of Late Prominent Merchant Published Today

Resolutions commemorating the late S. Y. Hyde, prominent grain merchant and capitalist of this city, were adopted by the board of trade directorate at a noon-day dinner on Tuesday. They were made public today as follows:

"The death of Samuel Y. Hyde, Sr., which occurred at Los Angeles, Cal., March 9, 1916, was a great loss to this community as well as to the members of this Board.

"Mr. Hyde was a citizen of La Crosse for nearly forty years and during most of this period he was a member of the La Crosse Board of Trade. He contributed liberally of his time and means to every movement which in his judgment was in the direction of civic industrial and moral advancement.

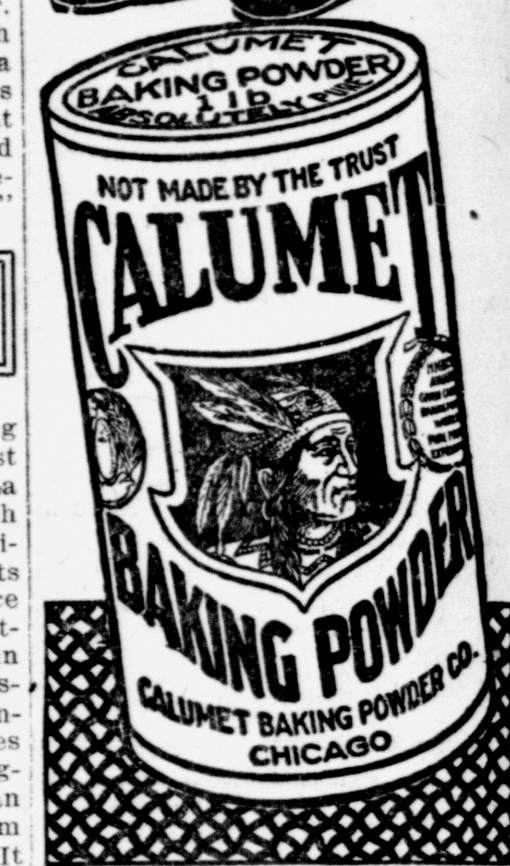

"We extend to his family our heart-felt sympathy for upon them has fallen grief which is heavy indeed. May they be sustained and comforted by the faith which he shared with them and by the memory of a life well spent.

"In appreciation of the services rendered this community by Mr. Hyde, and the high esteem in which he was held by our citizens, the La Crosse Board of Trade adopts this resolution and it is directed that same be made a part of the record of the Board and that a copy be presented to the family of Mr. Hyde."

When Al. H. Wilson, the singing dialect comedian, presents his latest play, "As Years Roll On", at the La Crosse theater on Saturday, March 18, matinee and night, his audience can settled back in their seats prepared to enjoy a performance that is said to be as clean as spotless snow and as fresh as mountain dew, with songs as soothing as whispering breezes. Ingenious in construction, the plot contains a series of incidents which reflect the progress of a successful business man during that period of his life from young manhood to middle age. It is interwoven with fine threads of sentiment which distinguish the domestic side of the everyday life of himself and family, and which are shaded with the intense love for his daughter and the memory of his dead wife. Far more important than the plot are the many opportunities that the piece affords Mr. Wilson to render the delightful types of love songs which have made him famous as a singer. This season his portfolio of songs include the following new selections "Yesterday", "Mother Mine", "As Years Roll On", and "She's Left Me For a Teddy Bear."

MUTUAL PRESENTS MISS BETTY HART

Betty Hart, the Horsley (Mutual) star, makes a fascinating enchantress in "The Bait," a Mutual Masterpicture, De Luxe Edition, produced by the Horsley company, showing at the Casino Theatre Friday and Saturday. Garbed as a typical girl of the frontier gambling dives, she stands in the doorway of the saloon belonging to the man she thinks her husband, and ensnares men to their destruction. She meets "Bruce Powell," (William Clifford) a game trapper of unusual character. He loves her. On her father's death bed she learns that "Tom" had never been her legal husband. Then she responds to "Powell's" affection for her and married him. Betty Hart makes a more attractive wife of "Bruce Powell" than she made a fascinating lure for the drunken beast, "Tom." Her fearlessness and bravery result in the foiling of a plot to kill her husband made in later years by the gambler, who again crosses their path. Betty Hart and William Russell are both well known players whose appearance is eagerly looked for by their followers.

Weaving frames were invented by the firemen.

Aged Statesman Dead

Henry Gassaway Davis, 93 years old, died in Washington the other day. Mr. Davis was the vice presidential candidate on the democratic ticket in 1904.

Senator Davis's active political career began the year after the Civil war when he was elected a member of the house of delegates of the new state of West Virginia and later served as state senator. West Virginia sent him to the United States senate as its first democratic representative in 1871. He served two terms with distinction. The former senator, it recently was estimated, was worth $20,000,000.

There will be a supper served in the city hall by a number of ladies under the direction of Mrs. W. J. Maxwell. The supper will be given for the benefit of the high school athletic association, whose treasury was not able to stand the added expense of the La Crosse and Milwaukee tournament trips.

Ben W. Davis was a business visitor in La Crosse Wednesday. J. A. Berg was in La Crosse and DeSoto last week on business.

IRISH TRENCHES GET SMOKE GIFTS

LONDON, March 17.—Today is Irish smoke day in the trenches. In addition to hailing the dawn of St. Patrick's day, practically every Irish trooper received a quantity of smoking tobacco and matches, the gift of a London newspaper. Weeks ago the publication started a subscription fund for the Irish Tommies. The first check came from a patriotic Irishman in China. It was for $500. The fund grew rapidly until, it was estimated today, every Irish soldier received enough smokes to last him two weeks.

News From The Front In "Y" Campaign

Division "A", Pieper and Keeler; members 26; points 229.
Division "C" Killian and Roberge; members 20; points 153.
Division "B" Moore and Grimes; members 21; points 146.

Division "C" hit a stride yesterday that may carry them to the top before the week is over by bringing in ten new members yesterday and going into second place over "B". Division "A" kept its toe hold on first place by bringing in ten new members also. While no one stands out as having a cinch on the prizes offered in this campaign there is a race developing between Reuben Trane and Henry Sells who at noon today had each secured six new members. Trane was credited with 64 points and Sells with 50.

The social mixer last evening was enlivened by some of the experiences of the canvassers who gave brief talks. There is a suggestion that at the close of the campaign an opportunity be given all the workers to report on each case they tackled, giving their experiences. The Y. M. C. A. orchestra delighted the fellows with music and refreshments were served following the program. The game between the Y. M. C. A. Independents and the Normal H. S. team resulted in a 19 to 15 victory for the Normal team. These same teams will play again next week Wednesday. The hundred workers are going in to the last day's fight with spirits of determination, hoping for success and appealing for support from those who have as yet made no tangible results to do their best. If every one of the men who pledged themselves to work would bring in one member by tomorrow night the two hundred would be assured.

slaughter on the northern ridge where Silesian troops gained a foothold has not been equalled since the desperate fighting around Douaumont and Vaux.

Paris and Berlin reports today continued flatly contradictory in the accounts of the struggle for Dead Man Hill, the bulwark of the French lines west of the Meuse. The French war office, after first denying the Berlin claim that Silesians captured the position, reported the repulse of fresh German assaults against the plateau and announced that the Teutons have been driven off to the north.

Berlin Reports French Repulsed
The Berlin statement, somewhat vague, reported that French attempts to reconquer Dead Man Hill and positions to the north, have been repulsed.

British military experts, accepting the French claim as true, declared that had the French lost the position they must of necessity have abandoned the village of Bethincourt to the north-west.

Berlin has made no claim to Bethincourt's capture and the latest French official statement reported the village still firmly held by the French.

Attacks Not Abandoned

Heavy artillery fire along this whole sector yesterday has convinced military critics that the Silesian regiments have not abandoned their attempt to take the plateau. Unless the French are driven from the hill by frontal attacks, or are forced to evacuate by an enveloping movement, the Teutons cannot push nearer the northwestern forts of Verdun.

From Dead Man Hill, French guns swept the German columns eastward to the Meuse, blocking any advance through Cumieres in the direction of Fort Marre.

HE ADMITS CHARGE BUT ASKS CHILDREN

Edmund Maes, a native of Belgium, today filed an answer in circuit court to his wife's suit for divorce. Maes admits his wife's charges, but adds that she is not fit to take care of her children. He asks for them. The couple was married in Belgium.

HOG SMOTHERED IN WAGON

Thirteen other hogs brought in by Hartley had an aggregate weight of 4,265 pounds.

FOES ARE CHARGED WITH HINDERING GERMAN WAR LOAN

Germany Has Raised Five Billion Dollars Declares Finance Secretary to Reichstag

BERLIN, March 17.—Charges that paid agents of enemy countries are disseminating false rumors in Germany to hinder subscriptions to the fourth war loan were made by Dr. Helfferich, financial secretary, in introducing the budget and new war tax bills in the reichstag.

Germany's public debt because of heavy expenditures has nearly doubled in the last year, the financial secretary said. But he asserted that Germany's financial condition is better than that of her enemies.

Germany, he said, has raised about 25,000,000 marks (about $5,000,000,000) at normal rate of exchange by war loans. France has raised less than ten thousand million ($2,000,000,000), and England only eighteen thousand or nineteen thousand million marks (about $3,700,000,000) of which fifteen thousand million mark were in short term issues constituting a floating debt, while all Germany's loans are a consolidated debt.

German saving banks, Dr. Helfferich asserted, now contain $100,000,000 more in deposits than in 1894, notwithstanding that $900,000,000 of deposits were withdrawn for war loan installments.

It will be necessary, he said, to cover a deficiency of 480,000,000 marks of internal indebtedness by new taxes.

The entire color-scheme of the store has been changed. Where colors bordering on the harsh existed, he has placed soft hues of cream, white and green. Floral decorations will be placed in various parts of the store.

Stranger Objects To Dogs And Cuss Words As Greeting

John Leonard, Twentieth and Barlow streets, was arraigned before County Judge John Brindley this morning, charged with threatening to take the life of Leonard Granum, of Viroqua, who is visiting friends here.

"I'll shoot you, I'll kill you, you low life pup, I'll get you," Leonard is alleged to have said to Granum.

The trouble is said to have started while Granum was passing the Leonard residence. Leonard has several dogs, and one of them ran at Granum, barking. Granum repulsed the dog's attack with the point of his shoe and stones. Leonard became furious that his dog was chased away and the above alleged statement followed.

Leonard pleaded not guilty. His examination was continued until next Friday.

TOMBSTONE RATE AND THAT ON KEYS AND BANANAS HIT

Series of Rate Complaints Filed Today by the La Crosse Shippers' Association

CHICAGO DEAD-ONES ARE LUCKY They Can Get Monuments at Less Than La Crosse Pays Though It Is 273 More Miles to Quarry

Bananas, tombstones and beer-kegs were lumped together in rate complaints filed with the interstate commerce commission today by the La Crosse Shippers' association. Three complaints were filed. One attacks the rate on the tropical fruit from New Orleans. Another objects to the granite rates from St. Cloud and Melrose, Minn. The third seeks to oust the present rate on "empties" from Missoula and Roundup, Mont.

That La Crosse pays more freight for monuments than does Chicago, although Chicago is 272 miles further from quarries, is an interesting angle of the complaints filed today. It is pointed out that granite shipped to Chicago at the lower rate passes through La Crosse en route.

He was charged with threatening to take Bergeron's life.

FURSTMAN'S RAISE KNOCKED OUT BY HIGBEE'S OPINION

His Term Does Not Expire Until End of This Year Rules the City Attorney

RE-APPOINTMENT UNNECESSARY

Board of Health Acted Inadvertently Is Comment on Re-appointment Last December

Dr. J. M. Furstman's $300 salary increase, which by a 9 to 12 vote won through the council last Friday night after a hard fight, today was knocked out by an opinion filed with the mayor by City Attorney J. E. Higbee. The opinion was asked for by city officials, following an objection raised in the council by Alderman Paul W. Mahoney, who maintained that the salary increase was voted to the city health commissioner during his term of office, and is therefore illegal. This, in effect, is the finding of the city attorney.

Examination of the city clerk's records, Mr. Higbee says, discloses that on December 28, 1914, Dr. Furstman was re-appointed for two years, so that his term does not expire until December 31 this year.

"It seems to me that the board acted inadvertently," declares the city attorney in overlooking the fact that Dr. Furstman's term did not expire in fact, and that there was therefore no occasion to re-appoint him.

Furstman Accepts

Dr. Furstman, while greatly disappointed at the new turn in the situation, today declared himself willing to accept the city attorney's opinion.

Immediately after the meeting the board of directors convened and elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

GALESVILLE PUT FROM TITLE RACE BY GRAND RAPIDS

La Crosse District Representatives Lose by 22 to 9 Score After Losing to Fondy 25 to 17

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 17.—Galesville and Waukesha were eliminated from the state normal high school tournament here today by Grand Rapids and Monroe, respectively, by scores of 22 to 9 and 31 to 16.

Galesville was defeated last night by Fond du Lac, 25 to 17. Other scores last night were: Edgerton 19, Waukesha 14; Ellsworth 23, Monroe 11.

TWO COLUMNS PUSH INTO MEXICO IN SEARCH FOR VILLA

mand of the Carranza pursuit in the Galeana district, where Villa was last reported seen, joined his cavalry at Guzman today. Civil authorities inclined to doubt the sincerity of Carranza's co-operation ask why the United States troops were not permitted to use the Mexico Northwestern railroad from Juarez to Guzman or Casas Grandes instead of being forced to make the terrible march across the Chihuahu desert.

Sand Retards Progress

The sand of the Mexican plains was retarding the progress of the Columbus division with its heavy wagon trains and the infantry were encountering difficulties on the treacherous sands with the mid-day intolerably hot foot.

Lieutenant Derosy C. Cabell, chief of staff to Brig.-Gen. J. J. Pershing, was reported to be directing the Mexican and American cavalry scouts. Cabell knows the Chihuahu country and its difficulties perfectly from his experience in the pursuit of the Indian Geronimo in 1885.

Mountain Artillery Useless

Absence of trails will render the American mountain artillery useless, they declared and cavalry and infantry must face on foot a foe who gives no quarter.

It is already costing the United States government $50 a minute to hunt Villa or $72,000 a day. This estimate was made today by Major William Elliott, quartermaster. Millions may be expended before the threat of Mexican banditry against the border states is completely wiped out.

Send Mormon Relief Train

Mormons today obtained permission from General Gaviara, Carranza commandant in Juarez, to dispatch a special relief train from Juarez to Pearson for Mormon refugees. Gaviara refused a military escort to the refugee train, scheduled to leave Juarez today.

According to the latest information here Villa was in the vicinity of San Buenata Venture and El Valle headed for Chocolate Pass north of the Santa Clara canon. This is south of the Mormons in the Galeana district and indicates they probably escaped molestation.

John Anderson was arraigned in court today for wife beating, according to the evidence of a swollen finger she produced in court. She broke it when she landed a hard right to the head, it was said.

The Andersons were arrested in the back-room of a saloon, having gone one fast round to a draw. Mrs. Anderson told the police who made the arrest that her husband was "trifling."

Anderson pleaded not guilty. The case was set for 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

"I would be going if it wasn't for Nora," Patsy said with a toss of her head. She stood before the bureau in the little front bedroom of the flat at West Forty-eighth street, pinning a band of black velvet around her curly brown hair as a final touch of artistry.

And the family admired and marveled likewise. Not a single St. Patrick's Day dance had Patsy gone to in three years. Some said it was because she was twenty-four and stud-

ing nights, besides working days around in Haley's store on Tenth avenue. Some with good memories said it was on account of Terry O'More.

Terry had been born right there on West Forty-eighth about two years previous to the time when Patsy herself had arrived. The mothers of both had hung over friendly iron railings and chatted back and forth of a summer evening, tending their wee ones, and later the two had gone to the same public school, and had danced around street corners to the same tunes.

When the leader of the district gave his big May party up in Central park, Patsy had been chosen the little queen to ride in a flower-decked pony carriage, and had been allowed to choose her king; thereby embarrassing Terry publicly, but giving him much secret satisfaction as he jaunted away by her side in the parade.

But as he grew older Terry developed a roving disposition. At seventeen, he shipped on a coast steamer, and piled up and down as a cabin boy. Then, just as Patsy had forgiven him that, he slipped away as pantry steward on a fruit steamer for Barbados.

"Go on with you, Terry," she told him when he came back. "I'll not be having you jaunt this way and that if you've a mind to keep along steady with me. You can go your own way."

"And I'd not be marrying a girl that wouldn't be proud of my seeing the world," said Terry valiantly. "Look at these fellows cooling their heels on the street corners and stealing rides on the freights for diversion. Would you be having me like them, Patsy?"

But Patsy had felt hurt and sick at heart. She was twenty now, and her neighborhood wondered why Terry and she didn't marry and settle down. If he loved her he couldn't help but long for their home, and no lure of adventure would take him year, and he was to have taken her to Coney Island and to a dance that evening and during the whole day she had waited for him to show up. Then, when evening came and it was too late, she had laughed and gone to the dance with big Danny Sullivan.

Patsy never forgot Terry's face when he came into the hall and saw her in Danny's arms, fox trotting. The next day he enlisted for three years in the army, and went away without a word to her, his best girl for five years, ever since she had first pinned up her hair and lengthened her dresses.

She had heard of him from his sister. He was sent west to a fort in Nebraska first, and then to the Philippines. Sometimes Molly told her they had received a box of things from him, knickknacks of silk and carved, scented wood, and native beads and shells. He never sent anything to her, not even a card.

Once, at a Halloween party, he had found a silver ring in his slice of cake, and had slipped it on her finger behind the hall door as they were all going home. Patsy got it out one Sunday morning and put it on her hand slowly. It was all she had from him, yet some way it seemed a link between her and the island post where he was.

But tonight it really was for Nora's sake that she was going up to the dance. Nora was only seventeen and wanted to go, and she wouldn't be letting a girl like that trip off alone, and who was the man fit to escort Nora? So she dressed herself in her blue silk with the pink silk rosebuds tucked under the Irish lace she had crocheted herself, blue silk that quite matched her eyes, so startlingly blue under their long black lashes. Nora was in white, with a broad satin sash of green and a wreath of shamrocks in her curly red hair. Surely she had never looked so much a heart smasher. Patsy felt she needed all the elderly sister supervision she could give.

"Don't be late, now, girls, mind," called their father after them, as he sat smoking and eading the Fireman's Bulletin by the kitchen table. "And, say, Patricia, did you hear—"

But Nora was in a hurry, and the door had shut fast. They were a little late, but still in time for the grand march. Some one on the reception committee caught Nora away to introduce her, and Patsy found herself handed over to a swiftly-procured partner.

"Here ye are, Terry, my boy," said genial old Donovan, the floor chairman. "Take your places now quick over there."

The hand that Terry held was cold. He looked stealthily at the proud little head beside him and at the averted eyes. It seemed a year before the march was over and he had her by himself in the hallway leading to the cloakroom.

"And won't you say a word to me,

Patsy?" he asked. "Aren't you glad to see me?"

"If I'd been waiting with a welcome for you all this time, it might have grown a bit cold by now," said Patsy, with the old toss of her head and flash of her eyes at him. "Did you like the climate, Mr. O'More?"

Terry groaned in spirit, and a bit audibly, too. He leaned one hand on the wall just above her, and put the other on his hip.

"I've thought of you and dreamed of you every day for three years," he said, fervently. "And you haven't changed a bit, Patsy. My heart dropped in my boots and flew up to the stars when I saw you come into the hall."

"It's quite lively, isn't it?" laughed Patsy. "Have you brought it back in pieces?"

"You should be knowing, Patsy. I left it with you. Didn't you break it yourself dancing with that wall-eyed Dan Sullivan right under my very nose in this very hall? Didn't he tell me himself he'd marry you in a month, and he knew you'd have him? Didn't you tell him I was a rolling stone?"

Patsy's eyes twinkled at the memory.

"I did," she said happily, "and more of it. But he never married me in a month, or a year either. Don't you think Nora's a beauty?"

"I'm not looking her way just now," said Terry. "I've served my time, and am in the reserves now, and I'm going to settle down. I've had enough seeing things. You'll find me changed, Patsy. I'm a quiet family man now. Sure I'll go back to the colors any time they need me, and you may be drawing a widow's pension on my bones yet, Patsy darling, if you say the word."

Patsy looked down at her hands, and she turned the little ring around her finger. Couples were going back to the hall to the next dance, but they two lingered.

"Patsy, treasure, can't you say something kind to your boy?" Terry urged.

"Oh, go along with you, Terry," she laughed. "Can't you see I'm wearing your ring? They've made a man out of you anyhow, and I chose you long ago, you know. I'm not the kind that changes. Listen! It's a waltz, isn't it? 'When Your Heart is Sad and Lonely for Her Irish Eyes of Blue.'"

"That's me," said Terry. The hall was empty. Under its gaslight he cupped her chin and kissed her before they slipped into the waltz together.

AVOID ST. VITUS' DANCE

Physicians are baffled by St. Vitus' dance because it is a nervous disease in which they can find nothing actually wrong with the nervous system.

Long before the child becomes awkward and begins dropping things there is a period in which the appetite is fickle and the patient is tired and listless. The jerking movements characteristic of the disease come much later.

In the early stages a good tonic for the blood and nerves will go far toward preventing the development of the disease. But the tonic must be free from alcohol and opiates for these make the nervous condition worse. When your child appears listless, prefers to sit and read rather than go out and play and requires entirely too much time to get his or her lessons, give a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They cannot do harm, the system is sure to be benefited and you may avoid serious trouble. These pills build up the blood, nourish the starved nerves and improve the general health.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write for free booklet on "Nervous Disorders."

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Parent Should Know this Splendid Remedy

Simple Laxative Compound Helps to Correct Constipation in Children

With all children there are times when the bowels fail to act naturally and it becomes necessary for the parents to administer a remedy. Cathartics and purgatives should never be used as these agents afford only temporary relief while their violent action shocks the system unduly. Mrs. Eva F. Gaff, 517 10th St., Washington, D. C., says that her little girl, Marie, had been subject to constipation, and that she found Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin the best remedy because of its mild action and positive effect. Its use tends to strengthen the impaired bowel action and restore normal regularity.

It is important that parents should know of a dependable remedy with no unpleasant after effects, griping, wagons and buggies for 47 years. Their new product will be known as the "Stephens Six," after President G. A. Stephens. A decision to build automobiles was reached by officials if the company nearly a year ago. Since that time engineers have developed two six-cylinder jobs which are now being submitted to most severe tests over the roads of Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky.

According to reports received by Mr. Stephens from Chief Engineer John Trumble, and Manager M. A. Steele, both cars are holding up remarkably under most terrific tests. "We started Sunday, January 13, at ten o'clock with the two five-passenger cars to find the worst possible roads and weather conditions," said Mr. Steele. "We had our engineer, John Trumble, and two mechanics with us besides the writer. The weather was about ten above zero when we left here, there being about six inches of snow and good sleighing."

"We went south through Dixon, Mendota, La Salle, Ottawa, Streator and Bloomington, making one hundred and seventy miles the first day. We had snow as far south as Ottawa and, what ordinarily would be called bad roads to Streator, but from Streator south to Bloomington, a distance of about fifty-five miles, we struck roads that it would be impossible to describe in words. We expected bad roads in Illinois but we had no idea they could be as bad as we found these. If you could imagine a newly plowed field of black earth frozen solid, you would have some conception of what we drove over in southern Illinois. There was about an inch of snow on the ground and at least twenty miles of this distance covered roads that did not even have a buggy track on them."

"We left Bloomington and drove over terrible roads to Danville, Ill., via Champaign and Farmer City. Outside Bloomington, in passing a heavily loaded wagon, one of our cars in turning to the side of the road broke through the ice and went into a ditch up to the hubs. It was quickly pulled out by the other car. The sun was just warm enough to melt the snow so that the roads were covered with mud and slush."

"This would fly up over our car and onto the windshield and freeze as soon as it would light and every little while we would have to get out and scrape the mud off the windshield so we could see to drive. The mud froze on our car and under it so thickly that by the time we reached Champaign it was practically impossible to steer the car as the steering gear, brake rids, etc., were frozen tight. The boys had to use hot water, hammers, etc., to knock off the frozen mud before we could go any farther."

"Leaving Bloomington we drove on the scales to see if we were carrying the proper weight—2,800 lbs., fully equipped with a 19 gallon gasoline tank full, radiator full of water and engine full of oil and an extra tire and run on the rear. Figuring the average weight of five passengers at 800 lbs. the car should have weighed 3600 lbs. The scales showed that the cars each weighed 4100 lbs."

"I have traveled over several states in automobiles in all seasons of the year and I never supposed that it was possible to find roads like we found through southern Illinois."

"The next day we drove from Danville to Carthage, Ohio, a distance of about two hundred and fifteen miles. The roads were mostly hard macadam but they were badly cut up into ruts and were sloppy from the melting snow."

"We went to Cincinnati via Richmond on the National Highway, the condition of which was a great surprise to the writer as he had gone over this road during August when it was a fine elegant piece of boulevard, but on this trip we found it cut up so it was impossible to drive

our car except in these deep ruts that were full of mud and slush."

"The next day we spent at the Hess Spring and Axle Factory. Upon examination we found the axles in first-class shape, and the next day we went on the Lexington, Ky., through the mountains, and on these long winding hills we drove on high gear. We got into Lexington that evening where I left the boys and returned to Freeport."

"While I do not know the details of the experience from that time on, I have messages from them daily showing that they went from Lexington to Danville, Danville to Louisville, Louisville back to Danville, Danville to Lexington, Lexington to Cincinnati and yesterday they were in Cincinnati expecting to come

HUSBAND SAVED HIS WIFE

Stopped Most Terrible Suffering by Getting Her Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Denison, Texas.—"After my little girl was born two years ago I began suffering with female trouble and could hardly do my work. I was very nervous but just kept dragging on until last summer when I got where I could not do my work. I would have a chill every day and hot flashes and dizzy spells and my head would almost burst. I got where I was almost a walking skeleton and life was a burden to me until one day my husband's sister told my husband if he did not do something for me I would not last long and told him to get my medicine. So he got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and after taking the first three doses I began to improve. I continued its use, and I have never had any female trouble since. I feel that I owe my life to you and your remedies. They did for me what doctors could not do and I will always praise it wherever I go."—Mrs. G. O. LOWERY, 419 W. Monterey Street, Denison, Texas.

If you are suffering from any form of female ills, get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and commence the treatment without delay.

home via Toledo, Detroit, South Bend and Chicago. They have reported no trouble."

"On this trip we are giving the people who are making our axles, transmission, engines, generators, etc., an opportunity to examine them, so that any delays we have had have been on account of this."

"Our engineer and I are fully convinced that any car that can go through and stand the driving we gave these two cars is a car that anybody ought to feel proud to stand behind. There are no weaknesses or defects and the car is built for service and has proven that it will stand up under the most adverse conditions."

"We do not believe any one could find worse conditions or a better time of the year to try out a car than we have had this month."

ASK RESIDENT WARDEN

ANTIGO, Wis., March 17.—Sportsmen of Antigo have started a movement to have a resident deputy of the conservation commission appointed for Langlade county.

The Antigo Gun club has taken the initiative in the matter. State authorities have been reluctant to stock Langlade county streams in past years with brook and rainbow trout fry on account of the violations of the game laws by netting and dynamiting the fish. However, conditions have improved to a great extent recently and it is believed that the streams will be stocked this season. The Eau Claire river bottom has hundreds of holes, the results of dynamiting.

HE LIKES THE MOB

NEW YORK, March 17.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is a familiar figure to Gotham's subway crowds. He is stockily built and handsome and seems not at all averse to being jammed in among the fighting mobs that mark the rush hours morning, noon and night.

One reason it is hard to save money is it is so easy to begin at some future date.

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water in the Morning

Wash away all the stomach, liver, and bowel poisons before breakfast.

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside; no sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head; no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, colds, rheumatism or zassy, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do say a well-known physician.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Drink the phosphate hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became saturated with an accumulation of body poisons, begin this treatment and above all, keep it up! As soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and purifying, so limestone phosphate and hot water before breakfast, act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

MONROE DOCTRINE GETS SET BACK AT HANDS OF DEBATERS

Seniors of Tomah High School Debate Against It Before Members of the Woman's Civic Club

TOMAH, Wis., March 17.—(Special.)—The Woman's Civic club held a special meeting in the club rooms Thursday afternoon hearing a debate between the juniors and seniors of the high school. The question was: Resolved that "The Monroe Doctrine Should be Abolished". The juniors had the affirmative and the seniors the negative and both sides showed a great amount of work and preparation. Both were very good in delivery as well as arguments. The judges, Mrs. Frank Burlin, George Uebels and William Brennan, decided in favor of the seniors—two to one.

The juniors and seniors have had eight debates this winter and this is the first one in which the seniors have been victorious. The juniors are the winners of the "Rolands" cup this year.

Those debating on Thursday were Laura Spooner, Lela Hendricks, Roy Reynolds and Milo Hill; Lucile Kyle, Gladys Mick, Ruth Johnson and Bernice Paquette.

Local and Personal

Mr. Peed of Chicago visited the schools on Thursday. He came to demonstrate the Palmer system of writing to the teachers. This is the system now used in our public schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Heberlin of Fennimore are planning to move to Tomah in the near future. Mrs. Heberlin will be remembered as Miss Hazel Squiers and her many Tomah friends will welcome them back. Mr. Heberlin will engage in the real estate business.

Parents Day will be held March 24.

Dr. Boorman of Grand Rapids, Wis., is in the city, superintending the packing of his mother's household furniture. Mrs. Boorman recently sold her house to George Fraser, who will take possession immediately. Mrs. Boorman expects to make her home in Grand Rapids.

Tuesday evening was the last night for the night school which has been held every week this winter.

Mrs. J. Harris has returned to her home in Cuba City.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Bray will entertain their section of the teachers' division at their home on Kilbourn avenue on Saturday evening. Those in the division entertaining are: Mr. and Mrs. Bray, Mr. M. Faucett, and the Misses Dano, Myhre, Birr and Miller. "Five hundred" will be the program for the evening's entertainment.

Mrs. Alfeldt Agast of Fessenden, S. D., is the guest of Mrs. Luella North.

WOMEN CANNOT WEAR MILITARY CAPES IN ITALY ANY MORE

ROME, Feb. 25.—(By Mail)—Military styles may hold sway in America and other neutral countries, but in Italy she who would be fashionable must eschew soldier modes.

Time was when it was difficult to get a chic American out of Italy without one of those swagger military capes which are considered the most graceful and altogether the most ravishing articles of wearing apparel woman has borrowed from male fashions.

Today any woman found guilty of wearing military raiment runs the risk of paying dearly for the affront. It isn't to be done. The result is there is a big business in making over military capes into cloaks. These military capes, with a fascinating azure amplitude that thrills the feminine heart when wrapped about the form of a dashing officer, may be worn only by these same officer's women.

Also, the gray-green material for soldiers uniforms, which lovely women pounced upon in their desire to follow military fashions, is taboo for feminine use in Italy. It's the stunning military capes with its picturesque draped effects which has struck the saddest blow to the feminine American heart, for no matter how hard she may try to smuggle one back home, she simply can't do it.

When a man pays compliments he is never forced to eat his words.

Preparedness and Prosperity Go Hand in Hand!

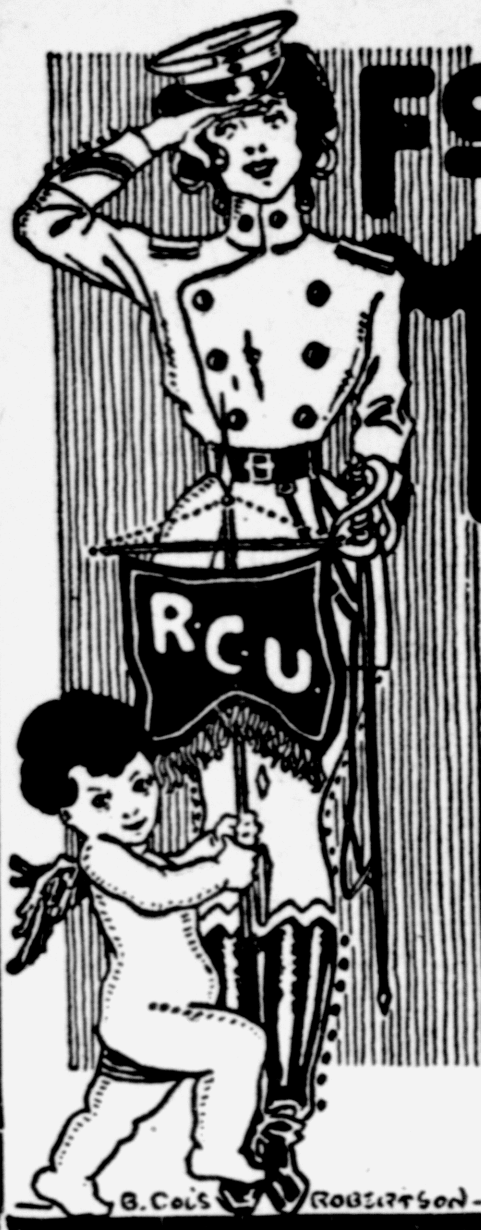

Already the Eyelids of Spring Begin to Open!

March is the month of progress. We freeze in January; we thaw out in February, and we get up and march in March.

March is the time when the earth gets tired of being brown or white according to the latitude, and begins putting on a little new green finery. And, therefore, it is time when all human plants should do the same.

A real good, healthy man or woman, or boy or girl can no more continue to wear old clothes after the first clear call of Spring than the old earth can continue to wear her dreary garb after the robin has come.

This season finds us better prepared than ever before to supply you with every suitable material needed in your dressmaking campaign. Our stocks are so broad and satisfying that every favorite fashion note is greatly in evidence, and whether your need be for dress cottons, wool dress goods, silks, etc., you will find us equally well prepared to supply it. Let us demonstrate how we can serve you, and how fair and moderate our prices remain, even though merchandise of every sort has "ballooned skyward," and most stores' prices have followed suit. No perceptible rise of prices is noted here—but quality and service are ever improving. Our orders were fortunately placed months ago through our envious position with the R. C. U. Buyers' Syndicate, thus enabling us, as ever, to undersell the price while we excel in QUALITY. Come! Make us prove it!

HALF BILLION IN GOLD STORED IN DENVER VAULTS

(By United Press.)

DENVER, Colo., March 17.—The largest single gold supply in the world—about $500,000,000—is locked in the vaults of the Denver mint today. The vaults that hold this enormous wealth are among the strongest and with the most intricate locking and time devices, in the world. They are considered burglar and bomb proof. Contrary to expectations, the great wealth in the building visited by thousands annually as a point of interest to tourists is not guarded by a large number of armed men. A few old soldiers, political appointees, are practically in charge of the building. In an emergency hardly a corporal's guard of powerful, armed men could be raised in the mint immediately. But the strength of the vaults and their inaccessibility gives the officials charged with responsibility for the half billion dollars no worry. The government accepts all gold offered at the mint. The price is fixed, $20.67 a fine ounce. It has not fluctuated in years. The same price rules all over the world. None of the gold which has poured into New York since the balance of trade has been in America's favor has been stored in Denver. According to officials at the local mint, that gold mostly remains in the New York and Washington mints and eastern banks as a basis for credit. In case of threatened invasion, however, it is not improbable that the gold on both the Atlantic and Pacific seaboard would be removed to the strong Denver vaults.

SHOE PRICES SHOOT UP—WAR CAUSE

(By United Press.)

CLEVELAND, O., March 17.—The price of shoes is going up, according to wholesale dealers. The boost will be caused by sharp advances in the cost of raw materials, as a result of the war. "With the manufacturer it is not a question of price so much as scarcity of raw material," stated G. P. Speer, wholesaler. "Many have not been able to buy more than half the amount they need. While imports of calf skin have decreased 55 per cent, exports have increased 100 per cent. The total exports of leather and tanned skins increased heavily last year, while imports of cattle hides have decreased. As a result women's shoe soles have increased 50 per cent in cost and men's 33 1-3 per cent. Some vici-kid is being sold at 75 cents a square foot. Even shoe laces have advanced 300 per cent." This unprecedented situation is caused by: 1, Enormous demands by warring nations for soldiers' shoes; 2, Shutting off supplies of leather from Germany and Serbia; 3, England's embargo upon all leathers of the first and second grades from her colonial domains; 4, The Mediterranean situation which cuts off Indian trade.

OUSTED MINISTER FOUNDS NEW CHURCH

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 17.

—The Rev. George Chalmers Richmond, Philadelphia's militant clergyman, no longer is connected with St. John's Protestant Episcopal church, from which he was suspended by Bishop Rhinelander, but now is the presiding bishop and pastor of St. John's Independent Protestant Episcopal church, a new denomination. The founding of the new church marked the ending of the two year controversy between Richmond and Bishop Rhinelander, growing out of the former's free speech utterances. According to Richmond, hereafter he will devote his time to constructive work as a minister and will make no further attacks on the bishop. Richmond's new church has only twenty-two members. They are those who, from the beginning of the strife between the militant clergyman and the bishop, rallied to the cause of Richmond. Most of them are gray-haired men and women who toil in mills.

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse, but you must see that it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. Castoria causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Brown of this city was dismissed from the office Thursday by the board of fire and police commissioners after he had been found guilty on four of the seven charges brought against him by Mayor C. B. SOCIALISTS HAVE BRIGHT CHANCES IN CREAM CITY

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 17.—Will Milwaukee again be under socialist rule after the spring municipal election?

This is the question which politicians were asking today and even the bitterest opponents of the socialists admitted that they have a better prospect this year than at any time since Emil Seidel was elected six years ago.

The non-partisan vote is divided for the primary at least by the candidacies of Joseph M. Carney, present city treasurer, and Mayor G. A. Bading. However, one of these will be eliminated at the primary. The socialist candidate, Daniel M. Hoan, is making a strong campaign and has a big following on account of his good record as city attorney.

IRISH BRIGADE OF WISCONSIN FAMOUS

They Objected to Leaving the State But Once in Field They Made a Reputation

MADISON, Wis., March 17.—With St. Patrick's day being observed in all cities of the state today, Civil war veterans were telling of the famous Irish brigade, organized in Wisconsin, which won glory for themselves.

The Seventh Wisconsin or the Irish brigade, as it was called, was organized early in 1862. Although almost 1,000 sons of Erin had enlisted in other Wisconsin regiments, little trouble was experienced in filling the ranks. The men were sent to Madison as fast as they enlisted and drilled in military tactics.

Shortly before the brigade left Madison their barracks at Camp Randall were burned and several of the men lost their lives. They were ordered to St. Louis but as they had not received their pay and many of them had families to care for and were in debt, they were unwilling to leave the state. It was necessary to call troops from Chicago to enforce the order for their departure.

Once in the field the Seventeenth Wisconsin retrieved itself in the eyes of its commanders. The Irish brigade in battle was well high invincible, according to historians. It is related that at Corinth, in a critical situation, it was ordered to make a bayonet charge upon an entire brigade of the enemy. They rushed upon the Confederates, dispersing them in wild disorder.

"Boys of the Seventeenth, you have made the most glorious charge of the campaign," said General Arthur McArthur after the battle. Again in the spring of 1863 in the fruitless assaults on Vicksburg, the boys of the Seventeenth attested their Gaelic valor. Their conduct on that occasion won recognition even from the enemy. "Most bravely done," was the comment of the Mobile Advertiser.

When in 1864 the soldiers were called upon to re-enlist, more than seven-eighths of the brigade bound themselves for a new term of service. They were sent back to Wisconsin to recuperate. The regiment arrived in Chicago fifty-two years ago today and was feasted and toasted by the numerous Gaelic society of that city.

Upon its return to the colors, the regiment joined Sherman in the march to the sea and after a short rest, it was again carrying the green standard on the toilsome journey through the swamps of the Carolinas. It had penetrated almost to Raleigh, North Carolina when Lee surrendered.

BERNSTORFF SAYS NO SUBMARINE SANK NORWEGIAN SILIUS

WASHINGTON, March 17.—No German submarine sank the Norwegian bark Silius, Ambassador Von Bernstorff informed the state department Thursday at the request of the German government.

This conclusion was reached, the embassy said, after the admiralty had received official reports from its submarine commanders. It was further stated that Germany never credited the foreign press reports that the Silius was torpedoed because "such an attack on a neutral ship would not have been in accordance with the instructions issued to the German submarine commanders."

Nor would most folk be flattered if they could know the suspicions their dear friends have concerning them.

SAVE YOUR HAIR! 25 CENT BOTTLE STOPS DANDRUFF

Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

Try this! Your hair appears glossy, abundant, wavy and beautiful.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

HE EMBARRASSED THE CONGRESSMEN

Jeff McLemore leaving U. S. capitol building.

Jeff McLemore, Texas cow puncher and printer, who introduced the warning resolution in the lower house of congress, has not made a great hit with some of his colleagues. Had it not been for McLemore's resolution, a lot of congressmen feel they would not have been compelled to take a stand on the delicate question of whether Americans should be warned off armed merchantmen.

KILLED BY FLYWHEEL

RACINE, Wis., March 17.—Henry Beesak, 20 years old, an engine tester at a local machine shop, was caught in the fly-wheel yesterday and thrown to the floor with such force his skull was fractured. He died in the ambulance on the way to the hospital.

BRITISH SHELLS KILL CIVILIANS

BERLIN, March 17.—British warships bombarded the town of Vurila, near Smyrna, killing a large number of Greek civilians, mostly women and children, according to Athens dispatches.

The town was almost totally destroyed, it was stated. The refugees are reported to have arrived at the Island of Mytilene in pitiable condition.

Athens newspapers state that the British pretended a Turkish camp was located in Vurila, whereas the camp really lay outside the city.

The Greek minister at London is reported to have made a vigorous protest.

PRESIDENT SPORTS A SPRIG OF GREEN

WASHINGTON, March 17.—President Wilson is "wearing the green" today, appeared with a sprig of real shamrock in the lapel of his coat and wearing a green necktie. The shamrock was sent across the water by John Redmond.

CAMPFIRE GIRLS HAVE PICNIC

What was undoubtedly the first picnic held in La Crosse for the season of 1916 was the bacon roast which members of the "Winexia" Campfire Council enjoyed at Myrick Park last evening. A huge bonfire furnished light and warmth, and the party sat about the fire till late in the evening singing songs and telling stories.

IN CHURCH CIRCLES

At their regular monthly meeting yesterday the Ladies' Industrial society of the First Baptist church decided to co-operate with the women's clubs of the city in the observance of Baby Week, and to contribute a number of sheets for the beds which will be fitted up for the occasion. The society was entertained yesterday afternoon by Mesdames C. F. Emery and W. R. Thomas at the home of Mrs. Emery, 925 Cass street.

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Methodist church was entertained at the church parlors yesterday afternoon by the Mesdames W. W. Collins and E. L. Townsend. With the exception of the discussion of plans for the spring cleaning of the church, merely routine business was transacted. Refreshments were served.

Mesdames Margaret Kienholz and Anna Zschocke entertained the members of the Ladies' society of the German Reformed church, corner of Fourth and Market streets, at the church parlors yesterday afternoon. The lesson for the afternoon, led by Mrs. Elizabeth Freehoff, dealt with the subject of mission work among the negroes.

LA CROSSE WOMEN'S CLUB

OBSERVES ANNIVERSARY

The La Crosse Women's club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Arthur A. Bentley, 112 South Eleventh street, for the observance of the twenty-first anniversary of the founding of the organization. This was the regular meeting of the club, but the date was the same as that upon which was held the meeting at which the organization of the club was perfected—March the 15th.

The customary program of the club was omitted, although a short business session was held, at the close of which refreshments were served, buffet fashion, from a prettily appointed table presided over by the hostess. Potted plants—tulips and cineraria—were used as decorations.

Following the intermission a delightful informal program consisting of the following numbers was rendered:

Reading, "Patsy," by Kate Douglas Wiggin—Doris Kent.

Reading, "The Last Tribute"—Mrs. T. H. Campion.

Vocal selections—Charles Bonneville, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Whelpley.

Vocal selections—Mrs. Frank Betsinger.

A pretty feature of the meeting yesterday, and one which was a complete surprise to the recipient, was the presentation by the president, Mrs. Herbert L. Partridge, of a five dollar gold piece and a pot of flowers to Mrs. M. M. Matthews in recognition of her position as the only charter member of the club still affiliated with the organization.

Blame the Dye Shortage And Not the Fashions

NEW YORK, March 17.—The pale pinks and anaemic blues forming the strident note in women's fashions for spring, are the result of a dye shortage, not the decree of fashion, according to information here today.

The shortage extends over all industries using color, dyemen said. Textile mills are hampered, some of them even suspending operations and automobile makers may be forced to make a sudden switch from earlier plans for a season of gaily colored motors. Ink manufacturers also have been forced to advance their prices by large degrees, and unless the shortage is speedily alleviated, may be forced to suspend certain lines.

Most of the supply formerly came from Germany. This market and the Chinese dye market have been eliminated by the war.

Efficient Expert Takes a "Gamble"

TORONTO, Ont.—Miss Martha Ingraham, efficiency expert in powder making, is now Mrs. William Gamble. Hers was a pretty romance, extending across Canada to Vancouver and back again, and culminating at a pretty wedding at Ardmore, Pa., near Philadelphia. Mrs. Gamble was an efficiency expert employed by a large powder company, and was sent from her home in Noble, Ont., to install a new system in the Vancouver office, of which Mr. Gamble was manager. The two became good friends, and Mr. Gamble obtained a transfer eastward to be near his fiancée. The woman efficiency expert found that she was wooed efficiently, and they have now begun a new life of efficiency at Vancouver.

California's Jap "Picture Brides"

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 17.—The number of Japanese "picture brides" entering this port and the number of Jap weddings in California, mostly picture weddings, are gradually increasing. In 1911 there were 589; 1912, 906; 1913, 718; 1914, 887 and 1915, 915. The custom consists of a match made by an exchange of photographs.

editor's views "on the live news of the day". Issues are made on Tuesdays and Fridays and the success already met with has prompted the society to inquire into the rates for a semi-weekly paper at the printing shop. It is hoped that the publication will become a regular school affair.

The German club is meeting regularly and promises to be one of the live clubs of the school. Last night after school a very interesting German play was staged in the auditorium to the united approval of all German students. Walter Baum, Malinda Keller, Edna Neumann and Julius Miller took parts.

At general assembly Wednesday morning the first of a series of speeches by prominent citizens was given by D. W. MacWillie. His subject was "Time", and the ambitions which must be reached not before the age of forty. Mayor Bentley will be at the school next Wednesday.

With barely a month more left for practice the Glee clubs are spending extra time on the finishing touches of the play. An excellent cast has been picked and with the music practically learned work on the acting at the hands of Miss Dunn will begin next week.

ROAD CALLS OFF PLANT TO COMPLETE DOUBLE-TRACKING

No Explanation Accompanies Countermanding of Order for Spring Work on the Burlington

Conjecture was rife today among Burlington railroad employes concerning the reasons behind a recent order calling off proposed double-tracking working on the La Crosse division. With only a few gaps in the double-track left to be completed between Savanna and Minneapolis, local railroaders were at a loss to explain the reason for alteration of the building program.

The new work planned for this spring has been indefinitely postponed. No explanation of the order was given by officials. Division officials here said they are without information.

The double track gaps which were to have been filled in 1916 included stretches from Bagley to the Wisconsin river bridge; from Lytle to Purdy; and from Alma to St. Croix Junction.

BOARD OF TRADE OF SANDHILLS IS DISTRICT'S MOTOR

one vote. A meeting is held once a month, not to talk, but to pass upon some specific project. These meetings are heavily attended.

Versatile Executive

The board has an executive committee which meets every week, and an executive officer in the person of Mr. Clyde L. Davis who is on the job every day and nearly every night. Among other things he has been a Kansas farmer, a rural evangelist, and a student of the classics.
He needs all of his versatility. The Board of Trade calls upon him to produce anything it wants. Not long ago it wanted a fair, and told Mr. Davis to organize one, but not to hire any balloon ascensions, midways, or anything like that. Mr.
Davis went among the people, and had them rig up their farm wagons to suit themselves for a great parade. The farmers fell back upon the story and legend of the countryside. They came as wild Indians, as highland clansmen, and as soldiers of the revolution, bearing the muskets and powder horns of their ancestors. They showed such a vivid consciousness of their own remarkable story that Mr. Davis is now under orders to produce an historical pageant.

These, however, are the frills and furbelows of the Sand Hill Board of Trade. Here is another thing it did. When the European war broke and cotton went down and down until the little planter and the tenant farmer were within an inch of starvation, the Sand Hill men were hard hit. They raised other things, but cotton was their best money crop.
In this emergency the executive committee of the Board of Trade
held a solemn meeting.

Saving the Cotton

"If this board of trade is of any use, it's got to prove it now," said one, and the rest agreed. There was the emergency currency issued by the government, of course. The executive committee went to Raleigh and found there was not going to be enough of that to go around. Then they went to New York. Although there were men in the Board of Trade with a lot of credit, they found that money was very scarce in New York, too. At last they got a credit of a hundred thousand in Boston. They returned to the Sand Hills and built a warehouse in each of their districts. The farmers were told to come there and store their bales, that they would be given receipts based on a fair price, and that those receipts would be currency in the Sand Hill circle. So the Board of Trade saved the cotton situation to the great increase of its strength and glory.

The way the board handled the sweet potato crop was typical. The sandy soil of the section is admirably suited to raising them, but the natives produced chiefly the yellow yams which they liked. The west and the north want dry sweet potatoes. The Board of Trade procured seed of the best varieties of dry sweet potatoes and saw that it was distributed. They also made arrangements with the railroads to furnish them heated cars for winter shipments. The farmers took to the proposition with a will.

Typical Story

The Board of Trade is epitomized in the story of Roger A. Derby. He is a New Englander and his friends attribute to him a most adventurous character. Having considerable wealth making a living, so he chartered a ship and went in search of a Spanish galleon, traveled around the world, had a look at the jungles of India, and generally comported himself like a Richard Har-dingle. Davis hero. Having heard of that was going forward in the Sand Hills, he came down here, bought a farm a little larger than any other and a little farther from civilization
than anyone else had cared to go.
There he worked out a system of tenant farming all his own, which consisted chiefly in giving the tenant a square deal.

Meantime the Board of Trade was building fine schools to take the place of the old time cabins; but they were too far away for the kids in Derby's neighborhood. So Derby made the county authorities a proposition to build a first-class school, if they would furnish the funds to run it. The county agreed. Mr.
Derby went to New York, and called upon sundry philanthropic persons of great wealth. In this connection he probably called upon himself first. At any rate he returned to the Sand Hills with a roll of money and a famous architect. Among the wise grass and pine trees he built a model school house, and a

has been considered by many as a military organization of the state.
"You men are a national force,"
he told them. "You are completely in control of the president of the United States. He alone commands you, except in matters affecting your own state."

Alludes to Mexico

The only allusion to the acute Mexican situation made by General Holway was by way of illustration.

"In the event you should be called on in the situation on our southern border," he said, "I want you to feel that you are much a part of the national troops as the men of the regular army. You are the national army."

"The defense of our country lies
to a great extent upon your shoulders.
If this country was invaded tomorrow, its defense would be up to you. I believe that the national guard of Wisconsin is as well disciplined a militia force as can be found on the globe. I believe that with a year's earnest training, every one of you can be made as capable a soldier
as any man in the vast armies of Europe."

"But discipline is the thing at the bottom of the future of every national guard. It is a thing which you must cherish, for without it we can have no army."

General Holway outlined only briefly the plan to bring the radio corps to La Crosse. He hopes to begin training the men in their new duties by March 31.

To Rent Horses

"Eventually," he said, "government horses will be furnished every man in the corps. For the present, the mounts will be rented. An endeavor will be made to obtain about forty horses at once."

About ten per cent of the corps
will be trained in operating wireless apparatus. The chief operators will receive remuneration from the government of from $15 to $30 a month in times of peace. Some of the operators in war time would be

model residence for his teachers,
who were also imported.

School Brings Settlers

There were about fifty children in the immediate neighborhood who were expected to attend. They did.
Also, they talked about that school,
and every little cracker out in the brush that heard about it put a couple of biscuits in his tin bucket
and set out for the Derby school.
One day Mr. Derby received a call from six substantial farmers of another neighborhood. They told him that they had sold out and moved to his vicinity so that their children could attend his school. They had thirty boys and girls between them.
The total enrollment of the school is now about a hundred and fifty and it is still increasing. Derby shows his school with that particular brand of joyful pride which belongs to people who have created something good. He has found his real adventure.

Another pillar of Sand Hill society is Mr. Leonard Tufts, also an ex-New Englander, and the owner of Pinehurst, the winter golf ground.
Mr. Tufts' establishment was not intended to be what it is. His father bought the land with the intention of establishing a colony for the tu-bercular, who were to support themselves by raising peaches. The San Jose scale made the peach business impracticable at the time, and a little later someone found that Pinehurst had an ideal climate for winter golf. Within a few years, the colony which had been intended for the sick and needy had been entirely appropriated by the well and wealthy.

Aid Fox-hunts

While the Sand Hill people are very much in earnest about the development of their country, they are not too busy to have fun. They meet in solemn convocation to decide such momentous questions as whether a goat will eat wire grass,
but they also have dinners and dances and fox-hunts—particularly fox-hunts. Mr. James Boyd, erstwhile of somewhere in Pennsylvania,
but now a Sand Hill planter, is the leading local exponent of this sport.
He holds two hunts a week all through the season, everybody is invited, and an amazingly large and assorted aggregation attends. First a hunt breakfast is served—sometimes for two hundred persons—
and then the party take the field.

There are pink coated chaps on blooded jumpers, and there are tenant farmers riding plough-mules bareback. The musical notes of hunting bugles mingle with the throaty blare of the home-made steer's horn trumpet. A swarm of baying black-and-tan hounds pour from every direction. The hunt is on. It is probably the largest, most varied and most Democratic hunting party that takes the field in America—a whole community brought together by the universal spirit of fun.

SUGGESTION TO WOMEN

Who Are "Just Ready to Drop"

When you are "just ready to drop," when you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about
—and because you have not slept
well, you get up as tired-out next morning as when you went to bed, you need help. You can get it just as Mrs. Maxwell did. She says—
"I keep house for my little family
of three, and became completely rundown. I was weak, nervous and could not sleep; finally I was unable to do my house-work. A friend asked me to try Vinol. I did so and improved rapidly. It toned up my system,
I regained my strength, am no longer nervous, sleep well, and do all my housework." Mrs. J. C. Maxwell, Montgomery, Ala.

There is no secret about Vinol. It owes its success to the medicinal extracts of fresh cod livers, tonic iron and beef peptone, the oldest and most famous body-building and strength-creating tonics.

So many letters like the above are continually coming to our attention, that we freely offer to return the money paid for Vinol in every case
where it fails to give satisfaction.

paid salaries as high as $75 per pany will receive more pay than in-antrymen.

General Holway stated to the millitanes that in case the national guard should be called to the Mexican border in the present crisis members of Company M would go as in-antrymen.

Enlistment Begins

Captain Fowler received six new applications for membership in Company M last night. General Hol-
way spoke to members of Company
B whom he inspected at their armory.

At the conclusion of his talk to Company M last night, General Hol-
way spoke to members of Company
B whom he inspected at their armory.

"I believe that within a short time the company will be filled to war strength," he told a TRIBUNE reporter. There is no doubt but that many will seek places in the new company. I believe that it will place La Crosse distinctly on the military map of Wisconsin. We are the only city in the state now to have more than two companies of militia, and the new company will raise our strength to another company. When we eventually get the aeroplane division we will be one of the principal spots on the military map of the United States."

Company M has a few members who are telegraph operators. These men may be given preference in the new company. Present officers of Company M will be given high ranks
in the new branch.

CLEVER WOMEN

Use gasoline to dry clean everything at home and save $5 in an hour.

You will never again pay enormous prices for dry cleaning after trying this. Any woman can clean and renew the appearance of yokes, ribbons, satins, laces, silks, furs, shirt-waists, Swiss, lawn, organdie and chiffon dresses, kid gloves and shoes,
caps, woolen garments, fancy vests,
draperies, rugs, in fact, any and everything that would be ruined with soap and water.

Get two ounces of solvite at any drug store and put it in two gallons of gasoline where it quickly dissolves.
Then put in the goods to be cleaned.
After a little rubbing out they come looking bright and fresh as new. You will find nothing fades, shrinks or wrinkles, requiring no pressing.

You would have to pay $5 at a dry cleaning establishment for the cleaning which can be done at home as easily as laundering. Any grocery or garage will supply the gasoline and your druggist will sell you two ounces of solvite which is simply a gasoline soap, then a large dishpan or wash boiler completes your dry cleaning outfit. As gasoline is very inflammable, be sure to do your dry cleaning out of doors, or in a room away
from fire or flame, with the windows left open.

RIVER FALLS WINS FIRST GAME FOR THE STATE TITLE

Northern Champions Land on Milwaukee with 34 to 20 Score at River Falls

RIVER FALLS, Wis., March 17.—In a game fiercely fought from start to finish the River Falls normal basket ball quintet, champions of the northern division, defeated the Milwaukee normal, champions of the southern division, here Wednesday night by a score of 34 to 20. This is the first of a three game series to decide the state championship.

The game was a thriller for the crowd that packed the gymnasium. The playing of Strange of the Milwaukee team was amazing to the spectators, as he outshone the other nine players. The Edgebrecht brothers played their usual brilliant game. The next game will be played in Milwaukee.

ROOKIES AND REGULARS

MIAMI, Fla.—Some one on the Miami team called Red Smith a "red-headed bum" during the practice game yesterday. The Braves got so sore they jammed twenty runs across the plate.
HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—Carl Mays is the latest sensation at the world's champions camp. The elongated twirler cut loose with an astonishing amount of "stuff" today.
TAMPA, Fla.—Manager Tinker was trying to prod his Cubs into fast action today by letting them chase half a dozen motorcyclists who circled the ball field at a fifty mile clip.
MINERAL WELLS, Tex.—The White Sox trained today by playing foot ball, using a medicine ball for a pigskin. Red Faber was expected to arrive today.
WAXAHACHIE, Tex.—Jennings is having difficulty in securing nine men for his all-comers team, which will battle the Irish contingent today. "Who wants to play against a Mick on this day?" is the alibi.

HIGHS OF NORMAL BEAT INDEPENDENTS

Playing a brand of ball that carried them to the top in the normal class league, the high school class of the normal last night defeated the Independents on the Y. M. C. A. floor, 19 to 15.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush kidneys if bladder bothers you.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

ROOKIES AND REGULARS

PALESTINE, Tex.—The Browns break camp tonight. Jones and what most likely will be the regular line-up depart for Memphis for four games, while the second squad under Ed Plank shipped their trunks to Denison for games tomorrow and Sunday. The teams will then work their way St. Louisward.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—Herman Seekamp was the Cardinals' St. Patrick's day present. Herman is the treasurer and arrived with a large bundle of green goods. Ten extra base hits and half a score stolen bases gave the Cardinals a 14 to 1 victory over the local soldiers yesterday.

PACKED HOUSE IS ENTHUSIASTIC FOR IRISH CELEBRATION

Standing Room Only at St. Mary's School Last Night when St. Patrick's Day Program Is Given

A packed house with standing room only and that at a premium greeted the St. Patrick's day celebration given in St. Mary's school hall yesterday. The program was given in the afternoon and repeated in the evening, but so many people were turned away that it became necessary to announce a third appearance this evening to accommodate the crowds.

Not the least enjoyable number on the program was a playlet, "The Coming of Geraldine", in which Miss Helen Probert, as a colored maid, made a monumental hit. She had the audience in a continual uproar throughout the progress of the lively little sketch.

Singing and dancing of high class, all with a distinct Hibernian flavor, was enthusiastically applauded by the audience. The program follows: Chorus, "All Praise to St. Patrick," all the boys of the school.

HE DIDN'T TREAT

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 17.—

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

For several years past it has been the custom in our Women's Ready-to-Wear Departments to make alterations on garments free of charge. A moment's reflection will convince you that the cost of labor and materials used in these alterations had to be added to the price of every garment and that those of you who needed little or no alterations on your garments, were indirectly paying for labor and materials on other garments that required the maximum of alterations.

We have decided, and we think that you will agree with us, that this method was neither fair or equitable, so we have adopted a plan whereby the cost of alterations will not be included in the price of the various garments, but will be charged for separately, according to the amount of alterations required.

In this way, if you require or want no alterations on your garments, you will have none to pay for.

Don't you think this is the fair way?

TRANSPORT UNDER ORDER TO SAIL FOR PENSACOLA

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The transport Hancock is under orders to sail tomorrow from Philadelphia with about 500 marines for Pensacola, Fla. The movement was said to have no connection with the Mexican situation, but the marines would be available more quickly at Pensacola if occasion for using them arose.

A Philadelphia report that the battleship Minnesota was under orders to sail for Mexican waters was denied by Secretary Daniels. He denied too that six torpedo boat destroyers had been ordered to Mexican waters. The cruiser Brooklyn at Manila, is under sealed orders to sail, but Secretary Daniels declared her move is not connected with the Chinese or Mexican situation.

A QUICK, SURE WAY TO END CATARRH

Catarrh Germs Breed By Millions In Air Passages of Nose and Throat. Just One Way to Drive Them Out.

To stop catarrh for good you must drive from your system the germs that cause catarrh and that are now feeding and growing fat upon the swollen inflamed mucous membranes of your nose and throat.

A splendid means of destroying catarrh germs and overcoming catarrh has long been recognized by physicians in the well known oil of Hyomei (pronounced High-o-mei) and it is now a very simple matter for any catarrh sufferer to use it with splendid results at home, by breathing its air through a little hard rubber inhaling device which leading druggists are supplying with each large complete treatment. Just pour a few drops of the oil of Hyomei into this inhaler, place it between your lips and then breathe naturally and the pleasant smelling antiseptic, germ killing air will penetrate deep down into every fold and crevice of your raw, sore nose, throat and lungs and give you quick certain relief, opening up the air passages, making you breathe easily, stopping the inflammation and discharging and driving from your system every catarrh germ that has found lodgement there.

If you want to be free from every symptom of catarrh, are tired of trying one thing after another without benefit go to any reliable drug store hereabouts and get a complete Hyomei Inhaler outfit, use it every day for a few minutes and if it does not drive the catarrh germs out of your system and give you real lasting relief from Catarrh, your druggist will give you your money back.

WILL DISAVOW IF U-BOAT TORPEDOED LINER TUBANTIA

Boat Was Mined Prevalent Opinion in Dutch Cities; Few Believe Torpedo Story

OFFICERS SWEAR 'TAS TORPEDO

Affidavits Filed at Hague They Saw Wake of Torpedo Before Boat Was Struck

BERLIN, March 17.—The Dutch liner Tubantia struck a mine and was not torpedoed, United States Consul Schilling is quoted as declaring in a dispatch printed by the Berlin Zeitung Am Mittag this afternoon.

LONDON, March 17.—One of the Tubantia's boats, carrying fifteen persons, is missing and it is feared has been lost, the Evening Standard declared this afternoon.

BERLIN, March 17.—The German government will make prompt disavowal of the act of the U boat commander, and pay full compensation, it was stated today, should it be shown that the Dutch liner Tubantia was torpedoed and did not strike a mine.

Practically all dispatches received here today from Rotterdam and Amsterdam agreed that the liner was mined. It was stated that though several persons believed the ship might have been torpedoed, no one saw a submarine.

Admiralty officials would not comment on the possibility of a German submarine being in the neighborhood where the Tubantia was struck.

Swear It Was Torpedoed

AMSTERDAM, March 17.—Affidavits made by the first and fourth officers of the Dutch liner Tubantia declare that the steamer was torpedoed, according to an official announcement from the admiralty, telegraphed here today.

The officers were examined at The Hague. They swore, the dispatches asserted, that they both clearly saw the wake of a torpedo just before the Tubantia was struck.

The Tubantia's commander, who was quoted as saying he believed the ship might have been torpedoed, was to be examined later.

The majority of the passenger survivors, the Amsterdam newspapers assert, declare the Tubantia was torpedoed, but say they saw no submarine.

The newspapers publish columns of stories of survivors. Papers favoring the allies declare positively that the Tubantia was torpedoed. Those papers sympathizing with Germany are equally positive the liner was mined.

The report that several of the Tubantia's passengers and crew have been drowned, is still unverified. Officials of the company express the hope that it will prove to be due to errors in checking off the lists of survivors.

The Amsterdam Telegraf, friendly to the allies, urged today that all Dutch merchantmen carry German hostages to insure against submarine attacks. The papers agree that the government will ask an immediate legislation from Germany.

Washington to Investigate

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Investigation of the sinking of the liner Tubantia with Americans aboard and the reported attack upon the liner Patria, has been ordered by the state department. Acting Secretary Polk announced today.

Reports Conflict

Reports in the Tubantia case conflict as to how she met her fate. In the Patria case is involved the question of jeopardizing of American lives, even though the torpedo, reported to have been fired at her went wide of its mark.

Reports said to have been forwarded from Lisbon after the Patria touched there have never reached the department.

Confidential Berlin advices reaching Washington today declare neither Germany nor Austria is worried over the alleged submarine attacks on the Patria and the Tubantia, in view of the most severe restrictions under which central power submarine commanders are operating.

Denies Schilling Consul

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Richard Schilling, reported to be an American consul, is not, nor ever was in the consular service, the consular bureau said today. The bureau has a record of his having obtained a passport in 1915 as agent of the New York Life Insurance company at Stuttgart, Germany.

SECOND FIRE IN WEEK THREATENS U. S. ARMY POST

SPARTA CAMPS TO BE BUSY IF VILLA IS SOON CAUGHT

Program for Summer Depends Upon the Situation Along the Mexican Border

Upon the critical Mexican situation and the passage of a proposed congressional law providing means of transportation and camp upkeep depends realization of a big military program which the war department plans to carry out at Camp Robinson and McCoy, near Sparta, next summer. Word to this effect was received by The TRIBUNE today from H. P. McCain, adjutant general of the United States army.

General McCain has outlined for The TRIBUNE his plans for the Robinson camp as follows:

A camp of instruction for field artillery is planned for Camp Robinson from May 21 to September 16.

A camp for officers and non-commissioned officers, organized militia field artillery from May 21 to June 4, and a joint camp for batteries of the organized militia field artillery from June 5 to August 25.

It is also contemplated to establish at Sparta a joint camp of instruction for sanitary troops from June 5 to August 10; a camp for officers and non-commissioned officers, organized military sanitary troops from June 19 to 29; a camp for officers of the medical reserve corps of the U. S. army (inactive list) from August 14 to 24, and a joint camp for field hospital companies and ambulance companies, organized militia, from June 29 to August 10.
